

SIGNS

All signs require a permit and inspections (off premise signs, channel letter signs, building signs, pole signs, monument signs, etc.)

- All sign installers must be registered with the City of Denison as a Contractor (registration forms in General Information page, find General Contractor, and circle Signs at top of page)
- All pole signs are required to have a site plan for set backs and engineered drawings
- All pole sign footings are required to have inspections before pouring concrete
- All building signs need two sets of drawings and/or photos with address, size, material, how it is attached to the building, site plan, total cost, contractor's name and phone number
- A registered master licensed electrician with an electrical contractors license, electrical permit, and an electrical inspection is required for electrical hookups to signs
- All signs need final inspections
- More information on signs can be found in the ordinance link listed below
